Return Policy/Terms & Agreements

StarDancer.net

There are No Cash, Check or Credit Card Refunds on CD's, DVD's, DJ Services or any other services StarDancer provides. On products such as CD's or DVD's we can swap for a new one. This has always been our policy. We do not and will not send you a check or money order or cash back simply because you do not want it after purchase, don't like it, can't get it to work, or any other reason. The fact is that there are people out there in the world that still continue to rip artist off by copying and selling their material even with the copyright laws attached to the product. We've all heard others say, "that they would not dare do that to the artist they like so much." This may be true for the majority of the fans, however the possibility exists that you can still rip, copy or burn material from CD's and DVD's. That is why we put such strict policies on our products. This also keeps the price down and helps us improve on making a better product. Do not buy any product or service from us if you do not want to abide by our policy's and agreements. We do not need your money. We provide products and service to our loyal fans and customers only, and will continue to work with them always with the most respect.

If a CD or DVD is defective and, or does not work properly because of a defect or bad editing we will replace it at not extra cost to you. If the defective cause is from a source such as CD players, DVD players, or other devices used to play our CD's and, or DVD's, there is absolutely no refund. If a player or other device player will not play the product up to its specification or potential, there is absolutely no refund. All of our CD's and DVD's play in up to date players, unless the CD or DVD is defective or not edited correctly. During the process of editing a DVD, sometimes can have flaws. Such as in the recording process, sometimes dust particles can be attracted to a CD or DVD. When this happens the burning process can be a failure undetected. If that is the case our policy is for you to send the defective product back to us write down or try to explain the problem on a piece of paper addressed in an envelope and send both the defective product and letter to us. We will return to you a new product, the same product that originally was purchased. This will be printed on a new CD or DVD at no extra cost to you! This can happen up to three times. After three times StarDancer will refuse to you a refund, swap or exchange. If this happens the third time, we will check and analyze the fourth CD or DVD, before we send it back out to you. In our lab we will run a test check up at least three times and make sure that your CD and, or DVD works properly in our players. Once that process is done we will ship the new product out to you at no extra cost. At this point in time there should be no need to return the product once again. In the past this has always been our policy which has worked for more than 20 years with our customers. If fault or damage happens during shipping, return the item with a letter explaining what happened and we will ship you another product at no extra cost to you (the three times policy does not apply in this case). If any policy has not been abided by, of StarDancer and in this letter and or note, there are no refunds or swaps. No refunds if copyright laws were broken. All of our sellable programs have copyrights attached to them. All of our programs are protected by copyright laws. Unauthorized reproduction or distribution of our programs, or any portion of our programs, may result in severe civil and criminal penalties, and will be prosecuted to the maximum extent possible under law. There are no refunds for trying to copy, burn, rip or reproduce our CD's and or DVD's without our authorization. Copying our products is prohibited without our consent.

By signing the purchase order above you agree to the terms and conditions here in this letter and, or note and, or policy and, or agreement. You also agree not to copy, burn, rip or use other copy devices including computers and external copy devices of, in, or on the CD's and or DVD's you purchase from us. By signing the agreement on the purchase order you also agree to and abide to understand that all of our CD's and or DVD's have a code on them and that they can be tracked or found if published on the Internet! You also agree not to publish our material, programs, CD's and or DVD's on the Internet. You also agree not to teach our programs on the Internet. You also agree, if found guilty in a criminal court to pay damages that may have or cause harm to StarDancer or their employees or workers and to also pay other fee's such as their legal fee's, their lawyer fee's and any other fee's that StarDancer and their workers or representatives may incur due to criminal activity. Also by signing this agreement you agree to if you've made any profit by using in any way, our programs or material, that you would pay StarDancer and its owners for the profit that was made on such sales and events. You also agree to pay the taxes included. By signing the purchase order agreement you also agree not to use and or distribute and or train or use anyone to distribute or use any of our programs or material on the DVD's or CD's for profit, employment, or gain, in public, or in a studio, or dance studio, or for a, or in a non or not for profit organization, or the Internet, or a competition, or television, or radio, or the news papers, magazines, or publish in a book, or shows and theatres, or performances of any kind, and or movies, or making CD's, DVD's, VCR Tapes, recordings of any kind, also including any kind of media or software, for and or teaching or teaching purposes, or perform or in workshops, or explaining, or selling, or giving away material to our competitors, or trading, or representing, or giving away our secrete teaching techniques, or our practices as well as selling techniques, or our training techniques and exercises, or our teaching style, or teaching or showing the elements of dance, or teaching or showing the following with foot positions, footwork, body and dance positions in relation to your partner, positions with partner in relation to the room, our style of timing and rhythm, character of the dance, our programs and style and the order in which the steps appear on our programs, you cannot compete with or against StarDancer or Linda Landwehr and Stanley Mayer. Teachers familiar with our programs can teach our programs with our permission Only! As long as you are within a 300 mile radius from us. You Must Have Our Permission First! If you are a teacher or dance instructor (certified through the NDCA) you also agree to the terms and conditions to this letter or note you signed at the top of the agreement on the purchase order. If you are not certified you are considered a non teacher of dance unless you are certified through other types of dance organizations such as Jazz and Ballet and is recognized through a reputable school or company in which you have to get permission from StarDancer along with its representatives. All others will have to agree to the terms and conditions of this note, letter or agreement. You must sign the agreement or we will not sell to you! In other words we do not want you to teach, sell, rip, copy, burn, steal our program. Otherwise we do not need your money.

Thank You, Stanley Mayer
